Rural Health and Aging Funders Collaborative

Over the past five years, Grantmakers In Aging (GIA) has been facilitating conversations dedicated to improving the experience of rural aging. From the Rural Mobility Summit to our forum on the impact of opioids in rural communities to workshops at our annual meetings, GIA has brought together more than 120 foundations through our rural aging initiatives.

GIA is pleased to offer this forum for funders interested in rural aging and health to gather with other funders to continue these important conversations. The Rural Health and Aging Funders Collaborative provides an open space for philanthropy to share and learn from each other. The collaborative meets bimonthly and membership is offered at no cost. We only ask that you fully participate in the group by sharing and asking questions. Each call focuses on an area of concern within rural areas, such as access to health care or transportation. If you are interested in participating in this collaborative, please contact Emily Baransy Hinsey, Director of Operations & Program Development, ehinsey@GIAsging.org.
